

International Dialogue. China, you've cracked; you've had a fall! We've thrown you down, so, once for all, To take a lesson by't.

It is not we, but our will it fits, We roughly smash you into bits, And leave you then outright.

Railroads and Travel. If any of our citizens still doubt the indispensable necessity of the construction of the New York and Erie Railroad, they have only to take a trip from Albany to Auburn and back in the cars.

At this crisis of the affair, an order was given to the small man pronounced to the station—only fifty or a light flash from a comrade—when he, as ever, was laid close to the naked body.

RARE SPORT ON BOARD THE FINE FRATE. We perceive by the Natchez Free Trader, of Saturday last, that our friends of the Gen. Pratte were very warm in their attentions to a brace of songsters.

Sometimes during the boat's passage from St. Louis, to a three-week passage for New Orleans; and to keep their hands going in the music art, they now and then took a game at cards and an occasional throw of dice, for amusement only.

TRANSCENDENTALISM—Mr. Pike, editor of the Circleville Watchman, has transmitted the following glowing description of his former editorial labors, from the Washingtonian, a temperance paper, published at Canton, Ohio, the editor of which was an associate at the time alluded to.

Mr. Pike and I published a newspaper in 1837, among the Miami Indians, in the State of Indiana. It was a great partnership that. We had two millionaires paying subscribers, one of whom liquidated his subscription with white beans, and the other with swine.
